ACADEMIC AND ADMINISTRATIVE APPOINTMENTS

Professor (7/1/15- present)
Allard School of Law
University of British Columbia
Vancouver, BC Canada

My research and scholarship focus on health law in the United States and Canada. Major fields of interest within health law include public health law, reproductive health law, conflicts of interest in health care and research, and comparative health law. I have taught Torts, Law & Medicine, and Comparative Health Law in the J.D. program and supervised LL.M. and Ph.D. students. During 2015-16, while on administrative leave following the completion of two terms as Dean, I held Visiting Scholar positions at the Petrie-Flom Center for Health Law Policy, Biotechnology, and Bioethics at Harvard Law School (August-September 2015), Sydney Law School (October-December 2015), and Melbourne Law School (January-March 2016), where I also taught Comparative Health Law (March 2016). From April-August 2016, I was an academic visitor at the Faculty of Law at Oxford University and held a Plumer Visiting Research Fellowship at St. Anne's College. My current projects include a new edition of Health Care Law & Ethics (Wolters Kluwer, publication expected 2017) and a research project focused on the contested nature of the physician-patient relationship, with a particular focus on legal responses to conflicting values or norms.

Dean and Professor (7/1/03 – 6/30/15)
Allard School of Law
University of British Columbia
Vancouver, BC Canada

The University of British Columbia's Allard School of Law has approximately 45 full-time faculty members, 83 adjunct faculty members, 580 J.D. and 100 LL.M. and Ph.D. students, and more than 10,000 alumni. As Dean, I worked with colleagues and a wide range of stakeholders to support the development and implementation of an ambitious strategic plan focused on establishing the law school as one of the world's great centers for legal education, research, and engagement through law reform and public service. The law school advanced in national and global rankings, with UBC now ranked 31rd in the world in the QS World University rankings for Law (2015) and 23rd in SSRN total research downloads for international law schools (2014).

As Dean, I focused on efforts to enhance our academic and research programs while also improving student experiences and outcomes. We recruited a diverse group of outstanding faculty members through a mixture of entry level and lateral hires from leading law schools. Our focus on student recruitment produced one of the strongest student bodies in Canada as measured by academic indicators and diversity. We tripled externally funded research to $1.3 million in 2012/13. We revised our mandatory curriculum, enhanced use of innovative pedagogy, expanded experiential learning opportunities, and developed distance learning projects, concentrations, specializations and new course-based masters programs. We secured cooperative law degree programs with other leading global law schools, including Tsinghua University and the University of Melbourne.

We implemented new financial management and planning tools, emphasizing transparency with respect to budget, planning, revenue enhancement and cost reduction. We invested in enhanced student services, including career services staff, yielding excellent outcomes and improved LSSSE scores. We consulted with students, university and external stakeholders regarding tuition, student financial aid, and access. As Dean, I also led a number of equity initiatives, including enhanced support for indigenous law students.

Major external relations successes included dramatic increases in alumni outreach and fundraising generating approximately $90 million in donations and commitments, including a $30 million gift, the largest gift in history of Canadian legal education. We developed and completed a $56 million new building project with multiple funding streams, including private support of approximately $35 million. Finally, I was honored to be able to lead the development of new biennial Allard Prize for International Integrity ($100,000) offered to an individual or organization that has demonstrated exceptional courage and leadership in combating corruption, especially through promoting transparency, accountability and the rule of law.

Honors: Distinguished Courage in Law Award, Indigenous Students Law Association (UBC)(May 2015)(for support given to the Indigenous Legal Studies Program and the Indigenous Community Clinic).

Selected University-Related Service: As Dean, I worked collaboratively with university leadership and other deans on joint projects and university initiatives.

Director, Health Law & Policy Institute (1/2001 – 5/2003)

University of Houston Law Center

Houston, Texas

The Health Law & Policy Institute (HL&PI) is a center for health law research and teaching at the University of Houston Law Center. As Director, I was responsible for externally funded research projects carried out for the Texas Legislature, the development of the health law curriculum, publications, service projects, and governmental relations. The Institute had a budget of over $600,000 per year and coordinated thirty courses taken by approximately 500 J.D. and LL.M. students annually. Major accomplishments included: the renewal of special funding from the Texas Legislature totaling $700,000, recruitment of three tenure track faculty members, and the realignment of the Institute's research projects and publications. The health law program consistently ranked 1st in the United States during my tenure as Director according to the US News & World Report national rankings. (Also served as Associate Director of J.D. Programs, HL & PI from 1994-98).

Senior Associate Dean for Academic Affairs (1/1998-12/2000)
University of Houston Law Center
Houston, Texas

As Senior Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, I was responsible for academic programs (including J.D., LL.M. and concurrent degree programs; adjunct faculty; institutes and special programs), faculty development, student services (including advising, admissions, registrar), and career services. My role included significant budgetary involvement. The Law Center had a budget of approximately $16 million and a total J.D. and LL.M. enrollment of 1100. Major accomplishments included: rationalization and improvement of curriculum, enhanced support for research culture including new visiting speakers series, working with faculty and staff to prepare for successful ABA site evaluation, and coordinating efforts to enhance the Law Center's rankings and reputation.

Other Major Service Activities at the University of Houston:
