

Faculty Success Newsletter

October 14: A summary of news and events to support faculty success

- Get answers about specific instructional policies. Our Instructional Policy Liaisons are ready to help! Connect during virtual office hours on Monday or Friday mornings.
- As an election approaches, use the Teaching in Turbulent Contexts resource guide to support student learning and act as positive anchors in turbulent times.
- Implementation Grants for inclusive and effecting teaching in policy and practice are available to support unit-level projects. Submit your proposal by Oct. 21.
- Join the Associate Professors Peer Mentorship Program to build a community of peers beyond your department and learn more about how the university works. Email otp@uoregon.edu to join.
- All mid-career senior instructors, senior lecturers, associate clinical professors, research associate professors, professors of practice or associate librarians interested in professional development and building community are invited to apply for the Career Faculty Peer Mentorship Program by Oct. 16.
- OVPRI is launching the National Institute of Health (NIH) Academy this fall to help faculty develop a competitive NIH research proposal while building community among early career scholars, offering structure and accountability in this process. Asynchronous trainings are available.

EVENTS AND OPPORTUNITIES

- OCT. 15 Join Pizza and Pedagogy to discuss how you and your students might incorporate AI into your online asynchronous activities.
- OCT. 15 In Effectively Using Student Feedback, we'll consider strategies for collecting, discussing, and acting on student feedback.

- OCT. 17 Faculty members are invited to the UO Faculty Club for refreshments and casual conversation.
- OCT. 17, 31 The Teaching with AI Reading Group explores AI's impact on education by discussing Bowen and Watson's Teaching with AI: A Practical Guide to a New Era of Human Learning.
- OCT. 17, 24, 31 The Science Teaching Journal Club meets to explore topics of urgent interest for instructors of large classes.
- OCT. 18 The Accessible Education Center and the University Testing Center staff will hold virtual faculty drop-ins from 11 a.m. to noon to answer questions about AEC Connect, testing accommodations, and more!
- OCT. 21 Join us for Teaching in Turbulent Contexts: Role-Playing Classroom Scenarios as Rehearsals for Life enacts a series of teaching scenarios that bring national and international political contexts into the classroom.
- OCT. 21-25 Open Access Week 2024 features a range of workshops and events, including a panel of open access journal editors including Provost Chris Long.
- OCT. 22 Encouraging Active Listening is a 30-minute session that will teach "Circle of Voices" and other discussion strategies.
- OCT. 24 Join Political Expression in the Classroom to discuss the matter from a legal and practical point of view. Moderated by Provost Chris Long, Lee Rumbarger, director of the Teaching Engagement Program, and Kevin Reed, the vice president of General Counsel.
- OCT. 31 Attend Preparing for Post-Tenure Review to get answers about the post-tenure review process.
- NOV. 7 Developing your Online Course will explore UO's five Canvas site essentials for online courses.
- NOV. 7 New Faculty Social! Drop by McMenamins East 19th Café from 5 to 7:30 p.m. for this family friendly gathering, and the opportunity to connect with your peers as well as faculty from United Academics and the Office of the Provost.

You are being sent this message based on your affiliation with the University of Oregon.

Share this email:

This email was sent to .

To continue receiving our emails, please add us to your address book.

Unsubscribe

Having trouble viewing this email? View this email online.

Subscribe to our email list.