

University of Oregon School of Law
Learning Outcomes

The University of Oregon School of Law expects that our graduates should be able to:

- (1) demonstrate the knowledge and ability necessary to practice substantive and procedural law and to understand the dynamic processes through which law is created, developed, and changed.
- (2) employ sound and articulate legal reasoning to identify, research, and analyze legal problems.
- (3) engage in and appreciate the importance of their professional and ethical responsibilities towards clients, the local community, our nation, and the world.
- (4) communicate effectively with clients, decision makers, and other relevant stakeholders.
- (5) recognize the responsibility of lawyers to serve as informed and professional leaders.
- (6) understand and appreciate diversity, equity, and inclusion as components of their personal and professional success.
- (7) appreciate the critical role that lawyers play in ensuring meaningful access to the legal system, promoting the just application of its laws, and serving their clients and the community.
- (8) understand the interrelationship between the creation, development, reform, and practice of law, the natural and social sciences, the humanities, and the arts.
